

LAS VEGAS

The Las Vegas Log Cabin is a beautiful building with 70mm thick walls, great to utilise your garden space and to perhaps use for a fully working business space working from home – literally your own personal guest house. The length and depth of this building makes it great to use as an office due to the fact that you can fit many desks inside and the thickness of log makes for super heat insulation. The building also has many windows, allowing for a large amount of natural light to pour inside.
